PU YI WRITES A LETTER

Sends Personal Epistle to President Roosevelt.

TELLS OF RECENT CRISIS.

Surprise and Gratification Expressed by Foreign Legation Members at the Manner in Which the Government Handles the Trying Situation.

Pekin, Nov. 19.—Prince Ching, president of the board of foreign affairs, has forwarded to President Roosevelt a personal letter in the name of Pu Yi, infant emperor of China, setting for the crisis through which the throne has passed during the last few days. Similar letters have been sent to all other powers friendly to China. These communications are an appeal for sympathy for an understanding for the new rulers of China and emphasize the efficiency with which past events have been deducted.

Several foreign legations have expressed surprise and gratification at the manner in which the government is managing the situation. It had been expected that the death of the dowager empress would precipitate trouble, but the way in which the government has assumed its responsibilities has created confidence among diplomats, and many foreign observers declare that China has done as well under these trying circumstances as any other government confronted with similar difficulties.

The provinces are still quiet, and the governmental machinery continues to work well.

Crap Shooters Captured.

Memphis, Nov. 19.—Twenty-one negro crap shooters were captured in a police raid.

Departs For Constantinople.

CANNON BALL WRECKED.

Engineer Smith Loses His Life by Spreading of a Rail.

New Orleans, Nov. 19.—Texas and Pacific passenger train, known as the cannon ball, was wrecked forty miles from New Orleans Thursday morning. Engineer Smith was killed. The engine and baggage car and one coach left the track. None of the passengers were injured. The wreck is said to have been caused by the spreading of rails.

Sneezes Himself to Death.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 19.—Andrew M. Taylor sneezed himself to death.

Seized with a fit of sneezing after some practical jokes had scattered snuff on the floor of a saloon, he fell exhausted and was stricken with a hemorrhage. The jokers took alarm at his plight, and physicians were hastily summoned. An investigation showed that the man had broken a blood vessel. The flow of blood was checked temporarily, but broke out anew in a short time, and Taylor expired. He was forty years of age and leaves a widow.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—The feeling entertained by the late George D. Wolf of Sommerdale toward Charles W. Wenzell, his son-in-law, is shown in the following paragraph in his will, which was admitted to probate:

"Fifty cents be paid to my son-in-law, Charles W. Wenzell, a native of Huntington, Pa., to enable him to buy a good stout rope with which to hang himself."

The deceased left an estate of $10,500.

Couple Covered With Pistols.

Ardmore, Nov. 19.—P. L. Jones, postmaster at Provence, was robbed of $200 at his home by two masked men. The robbers gained admittance to the home and Mr. Jones and his wife were covered with pistols and compelled to turn over the money. Portions of it was government funds. Jones came here and notified the officers.

SHOULD NEVER DIE.

Party Contends Man Ought to Live Forever.

New York, Nov. 19.—This astounding assertion has been made:

Man ought to live forever if the proper "spirit life" is cultivated, according to Charles Brodie Patterson, who has made a special study of longevity. This rather startling statement he made at the Waldorf-Astoria during a meeting of the Medico-Legal society. Authenticated cases of extreme long life he pointed out to support the theory, adding that with proper care even the longest spans of life, as now measured, might be increased twenty to thirty years, or even indefinitely.

Another speaker said he knew of a man in England who lived to the ripe old age of 130 years, and that those who wished might do the same.

Alcoholic stimulants, declared another speaker, cut short many a life that would otherwise be long.

MAXSON TESTIFIES.

Hired Man on Guinness Farm Appears on Witness Stand.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 19.—Carefully working up the denouement the evidence which the state claims will show that Ray Lamphere set fire to the home of Mrs. Bella Guinness and thereby caused the death of Mrs. Guinness and her three children, Prosecutor Smith unraveled before the jury the stories of the fire, told by two men who were earliest on the scene. The greatest interest centered about the testimony of Joseph Maxson, the hired man who, since the fire, has been lecturing in country school houses, at county fairs and in assembly halls on the "Great Guinness Mystery," but it varied in no great particular from the story which he told the coroner, and which he related before the grand jury.

Indirectly Attorney Weir, for the defense, on cross-examination, tried to imply that Mrs. Guinness on the night of the fire had "doped" Maxson through oranges, but Maxson denied this.

Explanation of the $10,000 story referred to in the letter from Mrs. Guinness to A. K. Helgelein, regarding the disappearance of his brother was made, and it will prove a strong link in the chain of evidence that is being woven around Lamphere for the alleged murder of Helgelein. Lamphere is under indictment for the murder of Helgelein and for complicity with Mrs. Guinness in that crime.

Sheriff Smutzer's testimony related that Lamphere had told him (Smutzer) that Mrs. Guinness was then looking for a man named Helgelein, who was wanted at Aberdeen, S. D., for having killed a man in a gambling house and robbed him of $10,000. Sheriff Smutzer wired the officers in Aberdeen and received a reply that there had been no such murder, and that Helgelein was a well known farmer. Smutzer paid no further attention to the charge.

A month later Lamphere, when questioned by Smutzer regarding Helgelein, told the officer that Helgelein had left for Chicago that morning on the 5-10 train. Sheriff Smutzer also testified to seeing Lamphere watching Mrs. Guinness one day in the court house when she came to his office. She complained about Lamphere annoying her, and when the sheriff went to Lamphere and asked why he did not leave the woman alone he did not answer. Smutzer testified to being notified about 5 o'clock in the morning of April 28 of the fire, and going there at once with Deputy Sheriff Anttiss in his automobile. He told also of his search of the ruins.

He was shaved and his hair cut by an Italian serving a life sentence for wife murder. He will be put in the broom factory.

THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

In its leading editorial this week The Co-Operator, discussing the work of the two conventions of cotton men—the one at Memphis, the other at New Orleans—says:

"Neither convention carried to maturity any definite plan for holding the cotton crop for satisfactory prices, because of the many difficulties in the way of taking care of that part of it which is under mortgage for the supplies on which it was made. But both did much to overcome these difficulties by bringing forcibly before the business world the fact that when this fraction of the cotton is forced upon the market in advance of the demand for it, the price on the entire crop is depressed and the South loses millions of dollars which should flow through all her channels of trade. And not only did they bring these conditions clearly before the business world, but representative bankers and business men expressed a willingness to co-operate along safe and sound methods of improving them."

This is a concise but comprehensive statement of the situation. The only trouble in solving the problem is with the factor relating to that part of the crop which is under mortgage, but this presents a difficulty that is well nigh insuperable and a satisfactory solution can never be secured until this factor is eliminated. In plain words, the farmers must quit giving mortgages. The merchant and the banker can help the farmer, but he must first help himself by conducting his business according to business principles. The farmer ought to be the most independent of all men and would be if he would quit giving others the advantage of him.

Change in Management.

Effective this morning, a change occurred in the management of the A. J. Wagner & Co. store at Navasota, Mr. Roland Walker being placed at the head of the establishment.

Mr. Walker is a young gentleman of very pleasing address and we bespeak for him pleasant associations with our people. He comes from Bryan where he has had charge of the dress goods department of the Wagner store and is spoken of in the highest terms.—Navasota Examiner.

See Walker's China window at the 5 and 10 cent store. Everything there priced at a quarter. A 50 cent purchase entitles you to a guess at the $5.00 parlor lamp free of charge. Mr. J. C. Wilson and family of Wealthy, Leon county, were in the city Thursday and traded with Bryan merchants.

Mr. Wallis Neely and daughter, Miss Ida, of Cross, Grimes county, were in the city Thursday on a shopping trip.

Miss Hursey from Jersey.

Mr. B. H. Head of Iola, Grimes county, was an out-county visitor who transacted business with our merchants Thursday.

Mr. W. E. Moore, prominently identified with the commercial and general interests of Edge, was a visitor to the city Thursday.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Weather forecast for Friday: Light variable winds.

A. & M. defeated Southwestern by a score of 31 to 0 in the game played on the A. & M. grounds yesterday afternoon.

The game of football between Houston Heights and Allen Academy teams which was to have been played here today has been indefinitely postponed.

A practice game of football was played between the town boys and Allen Academy Wednesday afternoon on the grounds of the latter, which resulted in a tie.

The acrobatic work of Mr. Meredith James was a feature at the Cozy last night. Mr. Cavitt is giving an entertainment worthy of the good patronage extended the show.

Rev. W. D. Crane arrived from Rockdale Thursday afternoon on a prospecting trip. Mr. Crane resided in this section a few years ago, and is trying to arrange his affairs so that he can make his home here again in the near future.

The item appearing in yesterday morning's Eagle regarding the budding of a papershell pecan on a hickory tree was an error insofar as it referred to Mr. Bittle's farm. The tree is growing on land owned by Mr. Minter.

A horse attached to an empty buggy galloped south on Main street last night at 10 o'clock during the shower. It was not learned who owned the rig. Rain fell here at 10 o'clock last night, and the temperature was lowered considerably.

The editor of the Eagle has received a postal card forwarded from Alpine. The sender who lives in Missouri, inquires whether boats ascend the Rio Grande as far as Brewster county. The channel of the Rio Grande at the eastern angle of Brewster county is about 2,000 feet above sea level. Boats rarely ascend higher than Roma.

The court of appeals has affirmed the verdict of the Brazos county district court in the case of State vs. Jim Robertson, forgery, in which Robertson was given a term of two years in the penitentiary. The matter was tried several years ago, and Robertson has been at liberty on an appeal bond since. So soon as Sheriff Conlee was advised of the decision of the superior court Thursday, he rearrested Robertson and placed him in jail.

One of the biggest little businesses in Texas is that of Allen Smith's packery here. Since opening up for the season recently he has slaughtered and shipped over 50,000 pounds of turkeys. The I. & G. N. south-bound train was delayed 15 minutes at this place yesterday afternoon by reason of time consumed in unloading an express shipment of turkeys for Mr. Smith, and on the night preceding the H. & T. C. train was so long delayed for like reason that the train dispatcher wired the conductor to pull out. About 25 people are employed in the packery.

BROKE A RECORD.

Liverpool Spot Sales Thursday Were Largest of the Season.

Sales of spot cotton in Liverpool Thursday totaled 14,000 bales, the largest transaction of any one day since the opening of the season.

Liverpool opened 1 1/2 points up, and added three more to the upward move, closing at an advance of 4 1/2 points.

The American markets opened 2 to 3 points up; at the noon call were 10 to 12 better, but prices eased off and the close was at a net gain of only 2 to 3 points over that of the day before.

The near months seem much stronger than more distant options, which indicates a squeeze in December.

The advance in the past few days has brought out a better demand for low grades which had been practically without market value since the opening of the season. Especially is this noted in the local spot market where low grades now are relatively the highest priced cotton sold.

The good spot demand has also brought out considerable stocks in the past few days, and several big crop lots were sold at higher prices than the conditions of the market seemed to justify.

Mercury Telescope.

Baltimore, Nov. 19.—A peculiar apparatus has been evolved.

R. W. Wood, who occupies the chair of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins university, has worked out a mercury telescope by which it is hoped that life, if it exists, may be seen on the planet Mars. Professor Wood reported his invention to the National Academy of Science.

Professor Wood refused to make any definite statement as to the future possibility of the instrument. It is possible, he said, that a mirror fifteen or twenty feet in diameter, mounted in the tropics at the bottom of a deep pit, might enable people to observe details on Mars and the other planets which cannot be seen with smaller instruments.

There is no fear that revolutionaries will make trouble, and troops have been sent from Shanghai and vicinity to Peking.

BRYAN, TEXAS, NOV. 20, 1908.

In Georgia the legislature meets every year. Poor old Georgia!

Men who claim to know, say that when Taft comes to name the premier of his cabinet he will go to the Root of the matter.

The Kaiser has promised to hold his tongue, but there are some who say it will prove as impossible a task for him as it is for Roosevelt.

Get a memorandum book and pencil and note down from day to day the things you ought to be thankful for and you will be ready to get in line by the 26.

The usual outcry against the man with the gun has followed the Carmack tragedy, but it will soon die out and be forgotten while the man with the gun will go on his murderous way.

It is desirable that every child go to school every day that is possible, but the proposition to have the state interfere between parents and children is a very serious matter. It tends to break up the family, which is the foundation of society.

An exchange wants to know how to start a "People's Forum," department.

It's easy—just get somebody to write a red-hot article for or against prohibition, or write it yourself and get somebody else to father it. That will set the ball rolling. Another way is to publish a vicious attack on your county or city officers.

In a private letter from Nashville speaking of the Carmack tragedy, a friend of the editor of the Eagle says: "The murder is said to have grown out of an article in The Tennessean, which was tame to some of yours. Don't you think you editors will be compelled to censor your articles to the demands of Cooperism?"

FAVOR NEW ORLEANS.

And the Crescent City Favors the Union.

The following resolution was adopted by New Orleans Progressive Union at joint mass meeting of Progressive Union and Farmers' Union, held at New Orleans, Nov. 12, 1908.

The progressive Union of New Orleans, representing the vast and varied financial and commercial interests of New Orleans, and which has participated fraternally in the Convention of the National Farmers' Union, held at New Orleans, Nov. 12, 1908.

First: That we heartily commend and approve the objects and aims of said Farmers' Union Convention, to wit, the praiseworthy and opportune efforts to make cotton bring better prices, and we call upon all the financial and commercial strength of the cotton growing States to join in and co-operate with the Farmers' Union in the accomplishment of such purposes, realizing as we do that every interest in such States will be greatly benefited thereby.

Second: That we realize that the cotton grower is justly entitled to the active aid of the financial and commercial interests to enable the grower to so hold and opportunistly sell his cotton instead of being in large part compelled, by present systems of credits and times of payment, lack of proper warehouse facilities, etc., to sell cotton in the fall months, thus glutting the market and lowering the prices.

Third: That a great step forward has been taken, by the appointment of committees from the Farmers' Union and the New Orleans Progressive Union to hold joint conferences and prepare plans to remedy these conditions, and we express the belief that such joint committees will devise safe and proper plans for the solution of these problems.

The following resolution was adopted by the National Farmers' Union, at New Orleans, Nov. 12, 1908:

Whereas: The Farmers' Union, in convention assembled, realize that New Orleans is most favorably located by reason of splendid rail and waterway transportation, port facilities, nearness to foreign markets and proximity to the Panama Canal, for the establishment of a great public warehouse for the storage and handling of cotton cheaply and efficiently; and

Whereas: The financial and commercial interests of New Orleans have assured us of every possible assistance in this connection; be it

Resolved, That the Farmers' Union endorse the plan to enlarge the New Orleans cotton market in an effort to carry a great part of the surplus supply of each crop at home and for the account of home owners instead of in European warehouses for the account of foreign owners, it being clearly evident that cotton is worth more when marketed as the trade demands than when sold when there is no mill demand.

We further thank the officers and members of the New Orleans Progressive Union and citizens of New Orleans for their personal courtesy and practical assistance in arranging for and carrying out the purposes of this convention.

Priest's Slayer to Be Tried.

New York, Nov. 19.—Considerable public interest is being manifested in the case of Enrique DeLara, the sixteen-year-old Dominican who will be placed on trial next week for the murder of Arturo Ascencio, a priest from Santo Domingo, who was found wounded in Central Park on September 14, and died two days later. DeLara, who confessed his crime to the police, is one of the youngest persons ever placed on trial in this city for murder and also one of the best educated. He speaks several languages fluently and spends most of his time in reading. His father is said to be a wealthy wholesale merchant of Santo Domingo, owning branch stores in France, England and Germany.

The killing of the priest was at first thought to be a case of suicide. DeLara was his protegee and had come with him to New York on a pleasure trip. When questioned by the police he confessed the crime and said he had killed the priest because of the latter's depravity. After shooting him through the back of the head, the boy rifled the priest's clothes, lighted a cigarette and walked out of the park. Recently he made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide in the Tombs.

The fact is that the people are just beginning to realize the value of waterways and the immensity of it will grow upon them. When great steamers begin to plow the Brazos river Bryan will build a double track railway to Bryan landing and thus secure water rates.

Great Plans for Corn Show.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 19.—All arrangements are practically complete for the great corn show to be held in this city during the coming week. The exhibition will occupy three buildings and is designed to be the largest affair of its kind ever given in this country. The chief purpose of the promoters of the show is to interest the corn growers throughout the country in the modern, scientific ways of raising corn, so that the yield and the quality may be increased and improved.

Besides the corn itself, there will be exhibits of kindred cereals and grasses, feed and farm machinery and displays of most of the 107 by-products, showing the process from the raw material to the market article. The corn kitchen will show the many ways corn is used as a food, and there will be a course of lectures by men high in the agricultural world on the scientific raising of corn. The agricultural department of the University of Illinois will have charge of the educational features of the exhibition.

LIKE TO TRADE IN BRYAN

Expressions From Out-County People Who Do Their Trading Here.

Mr. R. J. Thomas of Madisonville was in the city Wednesday on a business trip. Like many hundred other progressive farmers in this trade territory, Mr. Thomas reads the Bryan Weekly Eagle, and while in the office Wednesday night remarked that The Eagle was a good newspaper, giving not only a full report of city and county happenings, but also he found a wide variety of other subjects were dealt with in each issue. "But," remarked Mr. Thomas, "you can make your publication much more valuable to your farmer readers by printing a cotton market report regularly." The Eagle thanks Mr. Thomas for the suggestion, and promises that hereafter the market quotations will appear regularly in the weekly as well as the daily edition.

Like hundreds of others, Mr. Thomas finds Bryan the best place to sell cotton as well as to buy his supplies. He states that he likes to come to Bryan, not only because it is a better two-way business proposition, but he finds the merchants here price their goods reasonably and do business in a way that makes trading with them a pleasure.

Mr. W. R. Redden of Cross, Grimes county, was a business visitor to the city Thursday morning. Mr. Redden stated to the Eagle man that he had been trading in Bryan for a long time, and found the Bryan merchants fine men to do business with. "We have a pretty good store in our town," continued Mr. Redden, "but of course Bryan has us bested in the matter of variety. I brought a load of cotton over with me, and am taking some goods back home."

The people of this section may rest assured that The Eagle and the citizens of Bryan are glad to have them come here, and will endeavor always to make it to their interest both in selling or buying, to do so. Bryan merchants carry stocks of goods that one would scarce expect to see in cities of less than 25,000 inhabitants; buying in large quantities enables them to secure closer purchase prices, which permits them to sell considerably below figures asked in surrounding towns for the same class of goods. And as a cotton market, the reputation of the town is so well established that reference seems quite superfluous. However, it may be mentioned that several weeks ago a cotton buyer visited Bryan with a view to opening an office here but after four days spent in investigating the situation declared that the buyers already doing business in the city paid more for cotton than his limits would allow, and were liberal in other respects. This man represented a very strong concern. The Eagle mentions this as corroborating the statement in regard to Bryan as a cotton market.

Miss Hursey from Jersey.

Mrs. J. A. D. Robinson and daughter, Miss Bessie, were in the city Thursday from their home near Tabor.

For Rent—The Chatham home-stead, including 15 acres of cultivated land and pasture privileges; desirable place for dairy or truck farm. See R. K. Chatham. d6t-300

Mr. Julius Cheatham, a representative citizen of Madison county, was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Ollie Buckhaults, of this city, Thursday, and transacted business with Bryan's progressive dealers.

THE CRIMSON AND BLUE.

Fine Game Between Yale and Harvard Anticipated.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—The advance of an army of thousands of visitors has reached here, eager and enthusiastic over Saturday's football game between the Harvard and Yale elevens. The downtown streets are resplendent with the colors of the two big universities and there are many other outward and visible signs that the great gridiron contest of the year is at hand.

Both of the teams are in quarters awaiting the signal that will call them to victory or defeat. Reports are to the effect that all the players are in excellent shape and a spirit of confidence pervades both camps. Seldom in recent years have the Harvard men entertained a feeling of greater confidence in the result. The general impression is that the teams are more evenly balanced this year than usual. Unless all signs are misleading it will be a game well worth witnessing.

The game will be the twenty-ninth since 1876, when Rugby football was introduced at Yale and Harvard. Of the games played Yale has won twenty-one and Harvard three. There have been three tie games. In 1877, 1885, 1888, 1895 and 1896 the teams did not meet. Harvard has not won since 1901, in which year she was victorious by a score of 22 to 0. Since then it has been a continuous string of wins for the Elms.

Indiana at Andersonville.

Andersonville, Ga., Nov. 19.—Several thousand persons witnessed the ceremonies at the dedication of the monument erected by the State of Indiana officials and a large number of war veterans from that state took part in the ceremonies. A military band from Fort McPherson and a company of United States infantry also attended. The monument is of Georgia granite and was erected at a cost of about $7,500.

Coming of Prince Tang Shao.

San Francisco, Cal. Nov. 19.—The steamship Mongolia due to arrive here tomorrow has on board one of the most distinguished Chinese delegations that ever paid a visit to the United States. The party is headed by Prince Tang Shao, son of the emperor of China and heir to the throne. He is accompanied by Prince Tsai Fee, a suite of a dozen secretaries, as many attaches and numerous students and servants. Included in the suite are several Chinese graduates of leading American colleges. The royal party will be received with unusual honors upon their arrival here and every courtesy will be extended them by the government officials. On the way East the visitors will stop at several points. At Washington they will be received by President Roosevelt.

Central Electric Meeting.

Lima, Ohio, Nov. 19.—The annual meeting of the Central Electric Railway Association, embracing the principal interurban lines of Ohio, Indiana and neighboring States, was held here today. The possibilities of the electric lines handling United States mail in competition with the steam roads was one of the principal topics discussed. The effects of the recent financial depression on the earnings of the interurban lines was another matter that received attention.

URGES RETURNS.

Texas Secretary of State Notifies County Judges.

Austin, Nov. 19.—Secretary of State Davie has addressed a letter to county judges requesting them to forward at once returns of the recent election for presidential electors. This is a requirement of law which seems to have been overlooked, as returns of votes cast for president and vice president must be canvassed on Nov. 23. There are over 150 counties that have failed to send in these returns.

Israel Dreeben of Dallas was here and secured the approval of the state department to an amendment to the charter of the Standard Trust company of Birmingham, Ala., changing its name to the Standard Home company. Texas headquarters are at Dallas.

Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot is preparing an amended petition in the case of the state against the American Book company, which comes to trial Feb. 1.

Accusation of Chief Clerk.

San Antonio, Nov. 19.—Before the interstate commerce commission J. J. Arthur, chief clerk of the Texas railroad commission, testified on behalf of the commission and shippers that efforts are being made by trunk lines operating in Texas to keep down earnings here to furnish an excuse for raising rates.

He also charged that the trunk lines allow independent lines 50 to 100 per cent more of through rates than their own lines for the purpose of making earnings appear small.

Strike Compromised.

Childress, Tex., Nov. 19.—Four hundred boiler makers on the Denver railroad returned to work after a two days' strike. The men walked out from Fort Worth to Texline, demanding ten hours' pay and ten hours' work. General Manager Cotter compromised with the strikers.

Tender Vegetation Killed.

Cottonwood, Ala., Nov. 19.—There has been ice here one-eighth of an inch thick for three mornings, and all tender vegetation, both here and across the line in Florida, has been killed.

Confirmed by Gates.

Fort Worth, Nov. 19.—Dispatches received here from John W. Gates at Port Arthur confirm the statement that the Texas company is planning to pipe gas from the Henrietta field to Dallas and Fort Worth. Details have not yet been arranged.

Vault Too Strong.

One Year in Naval Prison.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Charles Hartlove, a musician of the first class, alias Magness, who left the service in order to marry the daughter of the late Senator Gorman, was sentenced to imprisonment for one year at the naval prison at Portsmouth, N.
